Classic rock, power pop, and danceable grooves!

The X-Static Approach

X-Static brings a fresh edge to classic rock. Rather than recycling the same overplayed hits, we handpick songs that people know and love — but rarely hear live. Our setlist keeps audiences engaged, surprised, and moving from the first note to the last.

X-Static also puts strong emphasis on precision and polish. We don't just learn songs — we refine them. Every member listens, adjusts, and locks in until the band feels seamless. Add in a few creative surprises, and you get a show that's tight, danceable, and always fun.

We believe great music deserves great sound. That's why we use professional sound equipment and, when the setting supports it, a dedicated sound engineer who ensures the mix is balanced and the volume fits the space. The result is a clear, powerful sound that makes every show feel big and alive but never overwhelming.

Professional, energetic, and refreshingly different — X-Static is classic rock done right.

The Band Members

The X-Static band consists of five members, each of whom have decades of experience with a variety of types of bands. They are all professionals who care deeply about details and carefully polishing their performances.

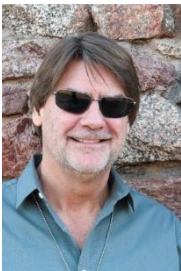

'JJ' Johnston - Keyboards and vocals

JJ anchors X-Static with commanding lead vocals and a wide palette of keyboard sounds. Known for an impressive vocal range and an ear for texture, JJ ensures the band's repertoire is both vast and engaging, giving audiences the full classic rock experience.

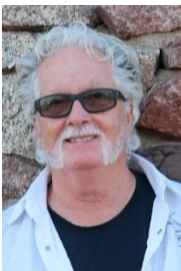

Mark Ulmer – Drums

Starting his drumming journey at an early age, Mark took a short break to focus on his career before returning to active performance in the mid-'90s. His rock, blues-rock, and classic rock style provides the driving force behind X-Static's energetic live shows.

Randy Magnuson - Guitar and vocals

Randy's guitar journey began at a young age, developing into a style that combines smooth melodies with powerful solos. His unique approach captures the essence of classic rock while enhancing X-Static's dynamic sound, making him a driving force in the band's performances and a continual source of inspiration for audiences.

Bob Courim - Guitar and vocals

Hailing from Chicago, Bob developed a love for rock, blues, and R&B early on, inspired by iconic acts like the Beatles and the Rolling Stones. He honed his skills at the Guitar Institute of Technology in California and toured extensively across the Southwest. Settling in Arizona, Bob became an integral member of X-Static, infusing the band's performances with his depth of experience and vibrant energy.

Robert Cassero – Bass

Robert is a bassist known for laying down solid grooves and memorable basslines. With a natural sense of rhythm and melody, he brings both energy and depth to every performance. Whether providing a tight foundation or stepping into the spotlight, Robert's playing adds a distinctive spark to X-Static's dynamic sound.

Song List

The X-Static Band is proud of their song list. It is specifically crafted to be different from other bands who play the same old tired songs at every show. Although there are some standards on this list for those who ask for them, the bulk of this list is fresh and unlike most every other band playing classic rock hits from the 70's, 80's, and beyond.

Each show's setlist is discussed and designed by the band for the anticipated audience, and rarely, if ever, repeating a previous show.
